

EZ Debride®

The next generation in sharp debridement.

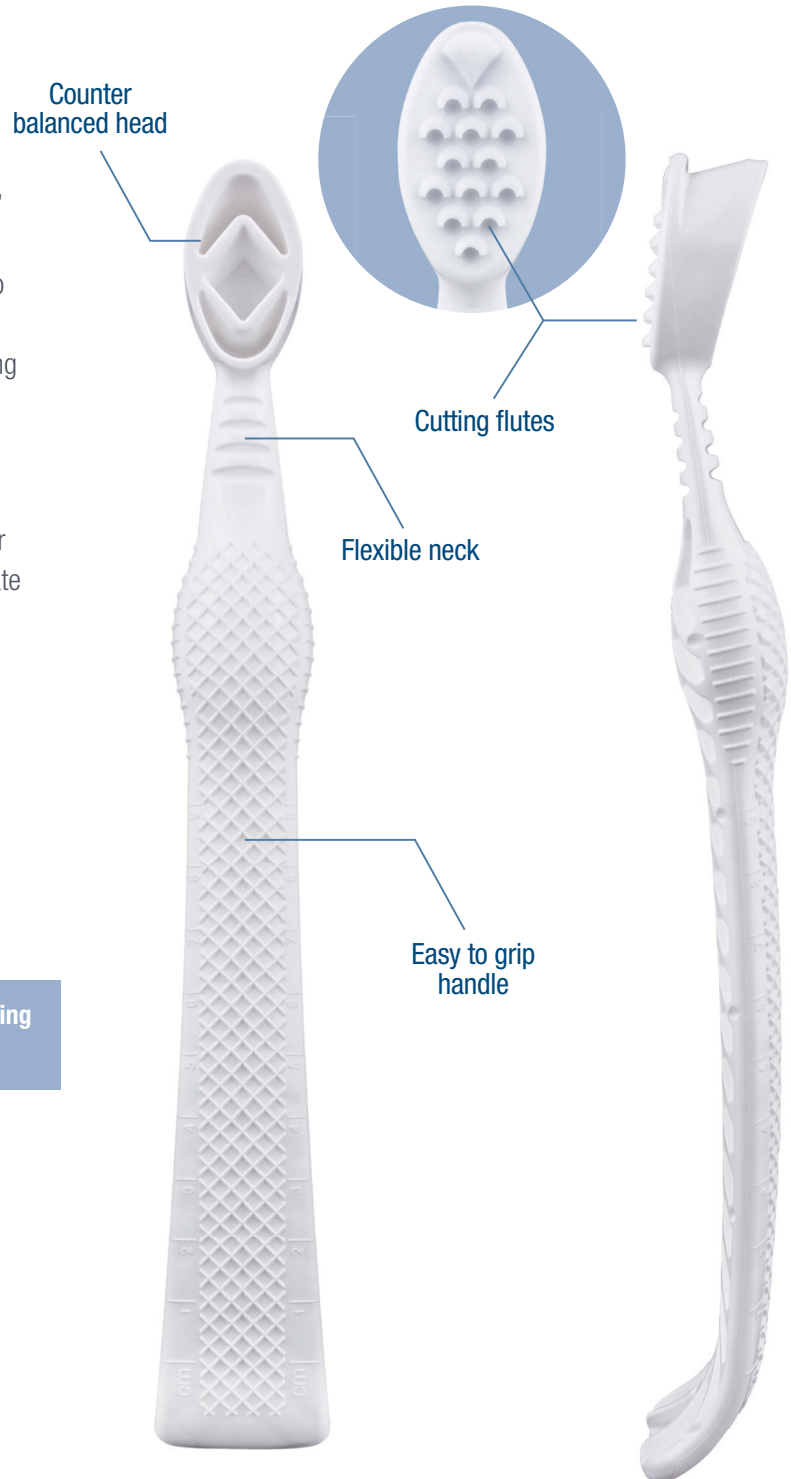

Salus Medical is extremely excited to announce its new distribution partnership with EZ Debride®, a next generation tool for wound debridement.

Designed by a surgeon, EZ Debride is a simple to use, sharp debridement instrument. EZ Debride can allow clinicians, with little or no prior debriding experience, to confidently and precisely debride like an expert; removing non-viable tissue and bioburden rapidly, easily and safely.*

For the experienced clinician, EZ Debride allows for a uniformed cutting plane and the ability to eliminate nonviable tissue rapidly, especially larger wounds.

Its revolutionary design is a single use, disposable instrument that is developed and manufactured in the United States. EZ Debride is a first-of-its-kind product and is currently available exclusively from Salus Medical, your trusted medical supplier.

*With proper training.
